Rodrigo Barrera Luna from Mexico, EF Cambridge

We fundamentally believe that education is the key to sustainable solutions. Join us in our mission of making a difference!

Hello Zero

We're committed to bringing sustainability to the heart of EF, continually working to make tangible and meaningful reductions in our environmental footprint. In 2022, we partnered with myclimate, a leading organization in carbon accounting and voluntary climate protection, to find effective strategies to reduce emissions across our operations. We are also investing in reforestation efforts that protect vulnerable ecosystems and support local communities.

Green initiatives in our campuses and offices

EF campuses and offices are vital parts of our commitment, as well as collaborating with suppliers aligned with our goals. Our dedicated EF Green Teams coordinate global activities engaging staff and students in environmental stewardship, from clean-ups in urban areas, parks, beaches, and rivers to community-driven projects. As part of our ongoing efforts, we prioritize initiatives like the distribution of reusable water bottles to minimize single-use plastic. We also promote education about sustainability. To this end, we've introduced a new Special Interest Class (SPIN) focused on Sustainability & Social Impact.

Supporting humanitarian relief

We've partnered with Médecins Sans Frontières (Doctors Without Borders) with the goal of providing support in both fortifying long-term medical relief efforts and amplifying the impact of emergency first-response during crises. Through our collaboration we aim to direct aid where it is needed most, supporting medical education and delivering rapid relief in critical areas around the globe. Our partnership contributes to funding training for frontline healthcare workers through the MSF Academy for Healthcare, as well as enabling immediate medical response through the MSF Emergency Fund.

Since 2024 we've partnered with WeForest to grow 3 million trees and regenerate 1,500 hectares of land while supporting local communities and wildlife conservation efforts in Tanzania.

Our engaging approach includes activities, discussions, and exercises that enhance language abilities while fostering confidence and competence.

Self-paced practice

Utilize online study resources, podcasts and videos to complete assignments and improve your skills – at your own pace.

Non-stop mobile access

Access a variety of additional lessons and activities online to maximize your course. Practice exams, access private lessons, and participate in online classes.

3) Apply

Life with the locals

Improve your accent, learn to speak naturally and gain authenticity with local terms and phrases through interaction with native speakers.

Cultural visits

Benefit from guided learning while you speak, improve your listening comprehension, and discover the language outside the classroom.

Live the language

Immerse yourself in your destination's language and culture with our experience-based approach and cutting-edge learning tools. Build language skills faster with interactive tasks while exploring museums, cafes, and more. Gain new confidence and put your knowledge to the test in real-world situations.

Work experience

As an additional option, you can take on a non-specialized job, do an internship or gain volunteer experience in your field. Build career-specific vocabulary, learn to share ideas, give presentations, and adhere to the local office etiquette.

The longer you study, the more you will improve, guaranteed. That's why students seeking advanced language skills enroll for a minimum of 4 to 6 weeks.
